The Holocaust, Genocide and Human Rights Program at Cardozo School of Law, Jacob Burns Foundation, Rutgers School of Law-Newark, and the Law & Humanities Institute invite you to:

The Abolition of War
February 20-21, 2015

Why has war never become a taboo? This topic and others connected to the experience of war will be explored at a two-day symposium at Cardozo School of Law and Rutgers School of Law titled “The Abolition of War.”

Friday, February 20
9:30 a.m. - 3 p.m
Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law
55 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10003

Panel and Lunch

Speakers:
Stanley Fish, Floersheimer Distinguished Visiting Professor of Law, Cardozo School of Law
Mark Kurlansky, Author and Journalist
Elaine Scarry, Walter M. Cabot Professor of Aesthetics and General Theory of Value, Harvard College
Richard Weisberg, Walter Floersheimer Professor of Constitutional Law, Cardozo School of Law

Luncheon Speaker:
Krzysztof Wodiczko, Artist and Professor, Harvard Graduate School of Design

Lunch is included both days. Admission is free.

RSVP or further details,
email ellii.cho@law.cardozo.yu.edu

Saturday, February 21
10 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Rutgers School of Law-Newark
123 Washington Street
Newark, NJ 07102

Panels:
War and Art: Do They Need Each Other?
Promoting the Alternative to War

Speakers:
Michael Braff, Partner Emeritus, NYC Public High School Teacher, Kaye Scholer LLP
Sarah Cole, Professor of English and Comparative Literature, Columbia University
Mark Kurlansky, Author and Journalist
Paul K. Saint Amour, Associate Professor of English, University of Pennsylvania
Brian Soucek, Acting Professor of Law, University of California Davis School of Law
Maria Stephan, Senior Policy Fellow, United States Institute of Peace
Krzysztof Wodiczko, Artist and Professor, Harvard Graduate School of Design
Ekow Yankah, Professor of Law, Cardozo School of Law

Musical performance/discussion on anti-war sentiment in music:
by Eleanor Cory, Idith Korman and Cheryl Weisberg