| Mandatory Course Load for Exchange Students | There are two sessions during the International Exchange Program and Bucerius Law School requires a minimum course load of 4 American Bar Association (ABA) / 8 European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) credits per session. The course “Introduction to |
German Law is the only mandatory course. Although credits can be earned with this course, they do not count towards the minimum requirement of 8 ABA / 16 ECTS credits during the program described above.

Approximately 18 – 20 courses are offered during the semester. Courses are either worth 2 ABA / 4 ECTS credits or 1 ABA / 2 ECTS credits. Students generally take a total of 6 – 7 courses.

“Certificate in Management and Leadership for Lawyers”

Since 2013, Bucerius offers the unique opportunity to earn a “Certificate in Management and Leadership for Lawyers”, which students can enroll in as an optional module during their semester at Bucerius.

Certificate courses are offered in cooperation with the Bucerius Center on the Legal Profession, which was founded in 2010 to observe current developments in the legal services market and to provide lawyers with technical knowledge that extends beyond a mere understanding of law.

Course topics cover areas such as negotiation, business skills for lawyers, mediation and lawyering in a globalized world.

Extracurricular Activities

Academic studies are balanced by a selection of interesting extracurricular activities, such as guided tours in and around Hamburg, visits to museums, lectures on the German political system and current political situation, an excursion to Lübeck, a study day at the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea and several social events with Bucerius students, all of which are free of charge.

An optional five-day trip to Berlin and Potsdam is offered during the one-week study break at an additional cost.

Exchange students are also welcome to participate in the numerous student activity groups on campus, including music, political and sport groups.

On-Campus Housing

Bucerius Law School does not have on-campus housing, but it tries to secure rooms in several nearby dormitories in Hamburg. Accepted students receive information on applying for dormitory housing in May.

Off-Campus Housing

Bucerius Law School provides assistance in finding suitable accommodation. Often German Bucerius students who will be studying abroad sublease their apartment or room to international students.

Further housing options and relevant information are provided once students are accepted to the program.

Health Insurance Requirements

To obtain a German student visa / residency permit, students need to have health insurance covering them in Germany for at least EUR 30,000 for the duration of their stay. They can purchase an affordable health insurance plan through Bucerius Law School or provide proof of their own insurance, provided it meets the minimum requirements set forth by the German Immigration Office.

Immigration Information

All non-EU citizens must obtain a student visa / residency permit for their stay in Germany.

Depending on their citizenship, some students will need to apply for an entry visa to Germany in their home country prior to their arrival, which they may later need to extend once they are in Germany for their studies. Others will be able to enter Germany as a tourist and apply for a student residency permit once they are at Bucerius. Accepted students receive detailed immigration information as well as assistance with the process of extending or applying for a residency permit in Germany. Nonetheless, students are responsible for making any necessary inquiries at their local Germany Embassy or Consulate in a timely manner on their own after being accepted to the program.

Available Language Courses

German Language Courses: Bucerius offers German language classes during the program, which stretch over 20 lessons (2 x 90 minutes a week). A written and oral placement test will take place during the Orientation Program. Since 2011, students may choose to earn 1 ABA / 2 ECTS credits with the German language course, although these do not count towards the 8 ABA credit minimum required by Bucerius.

These courses come at an additional cost.

Other courses: Bucerius Law School offers courses in French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian for German students. Ashurst Mooting Courses are also available. These are all open to exchange students and are free of charge.
