DR. ISAIAH M. GAFNI is the Sol Rosenbloom Professor of Jewish History at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Dr. Gafni was born in New York City and moved to Israel in 1958, where he received his professional training. Dr. Gafni has taught at Hebrew University for 40 years, while also serving as visiting professor at numerous universities, including Harvard, Yale and Brown. In 2010, he was awarded the Shimshon Rosenthal Prize for Talmudic Studies by the Talmud Department of the Hebrew University. Dr. Gafni has written extensively on a broad range of topics relating to the social, religious and cultural history of the Jews in late antiquity, with a particular stress on aspects of Jewish self-identity and relations with other ethnic and religious communities. His publications include The Jews of Babylonia in the Talmudic Era: A Social and Cultural History, for which he was awarded the 1992 Holon Prize in Jewish Studies; Babylonia Jewry and Its Institutions in the Period of the Talmud; and Land, Center and Diaspora: Jewish Constructs in Late Antiquity.
